There are so many
types of dogs
In the world!

Some dogs
are big dogs

And some dogs
are little dogs

There are
skinny dogs

And there are
fat dogs

Some dogs
have short hair

And other dogs
have long hair

Some dogs
are short

And some dogs
are long

Some dogs
are playful dogs

And other dogs
are quiet dogs

There are so many ways to be a dog and they are all great!

A dog does not need to look or behave a certain way in order to be a dog.
If it was born a dog, then it is a dog.
And that is great!

Each and every dog is special as it is,
and doesn't need to change a thing to be a dog. It is wonderful that dogs can be so different!

This is true
for boys too!

There are boys
who wear their hair short

And boys
who grow
their hair long

There are boys
who love
the color blue

And there are boys
who love
the color pink

There are boys
who like to wear
sporty tracksuits

And there are some boys who like to try
on dresses for fun

There are boys who love to play with cars

And there are boys
who love to play
with dolls

There are boys
who like to dance

And there are boys
who love
to play football

And there are playful
outgoing boys

There are boys
who are shy

In the same way as there are so many ways to be a dog, there are so many ways to be a boy and they are all great!

A boy does not need to look or behave a certain way in order to be a boy.
If he was born a boy, then he is a boy.
And that is great!

Each and every boy is special as he is,
and doesn't need to change a thing to be a boy.

Nature and the human world are diverse, and that is great. There is no right or wrong way to be a dog, and there is no right or wrong way to be a boy.

These healthy messages promoted in this book are meant to inoculate your child.

Toxic messages are unfortunately becoming more and more widespread in our society - as if a certain toy, a certain activity, or certain clothing indicates a "wrong body" or some pathology that requires "correction".
