

What makes a dog, a dog?

(Girls)

Dr. Tal Croitoru

A digital painting of a misty, golden-hour landscape. A stream flows through a lush green field, reflecting the warm light of the setting or rising sun. Large, dark trees frame the scene on both sides, with their leaves glowing in the golden light. The sky is filled with soft, golden clouds, and numerous small, glowing petals or leaves are falling from the trees, creating a magical atmosphere. The overall color palette is dominated by warm yellows, oranges, and greens, with deep blues and purples in the shadows and sky.

Dr. Tal Croitoru

Graphic design - Tut Blumental

There are so many types of dogs
In the world!

Some dogs
are big dogs

And some dogs
are little dogs

There are
skinny dogs

And there are
fat dogs

Some dogs
have short hair

And other dogs
have long hair

A small Chihuahua dog with large, pointed ears and a black and white coat is sitting in a field of tall grass and yellow wildflowers. The dog is looking towards the right.

Some dogs
are short

A long-haired dachshund dog with a black and tan coat is sitting in a field of tall grass and yellow wildflowers. The dog is looking towards the left.

And some dogs
are long

Some dogs
are playful dogs

And other dogs
are quiet dogs

There are so many ways to be a dog and they are all great!

A dog does not need to look or behave
a certain way in order to be a dog.
If it was born a dog, then it is a dog.
And that is great!

Each and every dog is special as it is,
and doesn't need to change a thing to be a dog. It is wonderful that dogs can be so different!

This is true
for girls too!

There are girls who
wear their hair short

And girls
who grow
their hair long

There are girls
who love the
color blue

And there are girls
who love the
color pink

There are girls who
like to wear
sporty tracksuits

And there are girls
who like to wear
dresses

There are girls
who love to play
with cars

And there are girls
who love to play
with dolls

A young girl with long, dark hair adorned with a small flower accessory is captured in a joyful dance. She is wearing a white, long-sleeved tutu with a gold-colored bodice and a wide gold belt. Her arms are outstretched, and her skirt is flared out as if caught in a breeze. The background is a dark, misty forest at night, illuminated by a warm, golden light source, possibly a lantern hanging from a tree. Several small, glowing butterflies are fluttering around her, adding to the magical atmosphere. The overall mood is whimsical and enchanting.

There are girls
who like to dance

And there are girls
who love to play
football

An artistic illustration of two young women in a forest at sunset. The woman on the left is shy, looking down with a slight smile. The woman on the right is outgoing, laughing joyfully with her head tilted back. Both have flower crowns and are surrounded by falling leaves. The background features misty mountains and dense trees.

There are girls
who are shy

And there are
playful
outgoing girls

In the same way as there are so many ways to be a dog, there are so many ways to be a girl and they are all great!

A girl does not need to look or behave
a certain way in order to be a girl.

If she was born a girl, then she is a girl.
And that is great!

Each and every girl is special as she is, and doesn't need to change a thing to be a girl.

Nature and the human world are diverse, and that is great.
There is no right or wrong way to be a dog, and there is no right or wrong way to be a girl.

These healthy messages promoted in this book are meant to inoculate your child.

Toxic messages are unfortunately becoming more and more widespread in our society - as if a certain toy, a certain activity, or certain clothing indicates a "wrong body"
or some pathology that requires "correction".